JAKUB DZIARNOWSKI

ABOUT ME

I am a third-year Computer Science student at the City, University of London, currently seeking an internship in the domain of my interest - programming. As a highly ambitious and hardworking individual, I have consistently achieved excellent grades As a result, I am on track to graduate with a First-Class degree. Through my academic studies and individual work, I have developed a strong skill set in various areas of computer science. I have learned programming in both object-oriented and functional languages. Among others, this includes Java, JavaScript, Python and Haskell. I have experience with the design and management of databases and the use of MySQL. Additionally, I am familiar with back-end and front-end development as my dissertation project considers the creation of a multiplayer browser-based game. I am looking for a job where I can use and deepen my knowledge of computing and programming.

I encourage you to visit my website, DziarnowskiJ.github.io, where you can find some of my past projects.
